Soviet Threatens To Let Volunteers Go to Middle East

Statement Read at News Confab Hints at Another Korea; France, Britain, Israel Told to Withdraw

MOSCOW, Nov. 10.—The U. S. S. R. declared tonight that if Britain, France and Israel do not withdraw from Egypt in compliance with a U. N. resolution it will permit Soviet "volunteers" to go to the Middle East.

A Soviet government statement read at a news conference in the Foreign Ministry contained the implication that if the three powers delay in pulling out their troops Russia will turn the conflict into another Korea.

The statement, without fixing a time limit, set these conditions for departure of Soviet "volunteers."

"If Britain, France and Israel, in spite of the U. N. decision, do withdraw their troops from Egyptian territory, and under some pretext postpone this action and concentrate their forces for new aggression thus creating the danger of renewed military conflict."

In London, a source close to the Foreign Office called the Soviet announcement a "cheap effort" to pose as protectors to the Arab world. He said the Soviet statements were "threats and blusters . . . diplomatic blackmail."

In Washington, the United States barred any U. S. volunteers for either side in the Middle East, apparently in an effort to encourage Russia to keep out volunteers.

Several thousand Soviet reserve officers and other "volunteers" already have been permitted by the Soviet government to offer their services to the Egyptian Embassy here, and enrollment of "volunteers" is still going on, the embassy said today.

The Soviet declaration, labelled a statement by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said:

"In executive circles of the U. S. S. R. satisfaction is expressed at the statement of the governments of Britain, France and Israel that they have terminated military action against Egypt."

"Such a decision of the governments of these states show they have at last heeded the voice of sense and given way to the demands of the peoples who resolutely condemned aggression against Egypt. Still, two or three days ago the situation in the Near East was such that military action against Egypt could spread to other areas as well."

"Noting as a favorable fact termination of military action against Egypt, apprehension is expressed in executive circles of the U. S. S. R. as to whether these steps taken by circles which unleashed the aggressive war against Egypt are not just a maneuver to gain time, to get a breathing space for still greater accumulation of forces with the aim of renewing the aggressive war against Egypt and the other countries of the Near East on a still larger scale."

The statement cited as reasons for this apprehension alleged British-French bombing of Port Said and landing of airborne troops in that area after their cease-fire statement. It made the claim that "under various pretexts" the British and French governments are refusing to withdraw their troops from Egypt.

Farmer Falls, Dies In a Corn Picker

MOBERLY, Mo., Nov. 10.—Vernon O. Bolles, farmer of near Huntsville, was killed today when he slipped and fell into the drive shaft of a corn picker.

Bolles, in his late 50s, apparently had gotten off a tractor and was walking back to the picker when the accident happened. His clothing was caught on the drive shaft and he was pulled into the machine.

A son, Eugene Bolles, was with him and summoned help, but the elder Bolles was dead when a doctor arrived.

City Hall Offices To Close on Monday

In observance of Armed Forces Day, the city hall will be closed on Monday. The police and fire departments will continue to function, as usual.

Worth Considering

Amid all this pleasant weather warm-up after a preview of real winter, it's hard to think of Christmas shopping, but nevertheless it would be a smart move.

Fair and warmer today; fair with no important temperature changes tonight and Monday; high today in mid-70's.

The temperature Saturday was 32 at 7 a. m. which was also the low for Friday night, and 64 at 1 p. m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 70, low 47; two years ago, high 72, low 45; and three years ago, high 56, low 36.

Moulder Increases Lead Over Miller To Win Re-election

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—An absentee ballot survey today showed Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo.) increased the lead he had held over George Miller, a Sedalia Republican, to win re-election to Congress from the 11th District.

Moulder led Miller, 67,426 to 65,991, with five out of 448 precincts unreported earlier this week. The absentee balloting—with two precincts still out—made Moulder's total 72,081 to 69,685 for Miller, a former Missouri state senator.

This will be the fifth consecutive term for the 52-year-old Moulder.

Resistance Holding Out In Hungary

Revolutionists Continue Battle Against Red Forces

VIENNA, Nov. 10.—Heavy Russian artillery fire shook embattled Budapest today and, after 19 days of bitter fighting, the Hungarian revolutionists still held out against tremendous odds, a returning eyewitness reported.

A members of a group of Swedish news correspondents and travelers who arrived here tonight said resistance fighters wearing their tricolor armbands and carrying tommy guns patrolled streets openly in daylight, defiant of Russian guns and what remained of the Hungarian state police.

A general strike which has paralyzed the capital for almost three weeks is still in force and the puppet Communist government installed by Soviet guns seems utterly powerless, said this informant who, because he has relatives in Hungary, cannot be quoted by name.

The government tried desperately to lure workers back to their jobs with offers of food and bonuses. Radio Budapest expressed fear the country now faced the twin menaces of hunger and starvation. But Vienna press reports said the Russians were adopting starvation tactics in attempts to break the rebel resistance, holding up supply transports at the borders.

Budapest is a ravaged city, the informant said. Scarcely a house in the downtown sections has escaped shells or bullets. He estimated at least 20,000 persons have been killed in Budapest since the Russians opened their drive Sunday to crush the Hungarian freedom movement.

"Judging by what I saw," he said, "the fight may go on even for weeks."

Another member of the group of seven returnees said the rebels held the east railway station until yesterday, when Russian fire forced them to abandon it.

Some Vote Results Incredible—

Old Political Saws on Blocs Are Left Battered and Bent

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Political saws involving the Solid South and the farm, labor, Negro and big city vote came out of Tuesday's election battered and bent.

By past standards, this election just didn't make sense. Things happened that looked simply impossible in the light of history. Even by 1956 measuring rods, some of the results were almost unbelievable.

The country just doesn't go in for picking a president of one party without giving him a Senate or House—usually both—of the same party. It hadn't done that but once, back in 1848, until last Tuesday.

Only at rare intervals do chunks of the Solid South break away from the Democrats—when the party nominates a Catholic for president or takes too strong a stand on civil rights and racial questions. Never in history had a Republican taken a quartet of Southern states twice in a row. Until 1956, that is. And this time President Eisenhower added an extra one by pocketing Louisiana along with Florida, Texas, Virginia and Tennessee.

For years, the Democrats counted not only on a Solid South but also on most of the Negro, labor and big city vote. They conceded the bulk of the farm vote to the GOP.

But look what happened this year:

Many Negroes, union members and city folk obviously marched to the polls behind the Eisenhower banner. And Democrats who had figured the pinch of high costs and low prices for crops would bring on a big-scale farm revolt against the Republicans found that nothing of the sort developed.

Eisenhower carried in 1952 all of the dozen farm belt states stretching westward from Ohio to Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas, and this year he lost only Missouri—the one state outside the south to go for Adlai E. Stevenson. True, Eisenhower's margin in some of these states wasn't as hefty as it was four years ago.

But in others it was better—including Stevenson's home state of Illinois, and in Ohio, the President's edge was the widest in history.

In the farm states as elsewhere, the crisis in the middle East unquestionably helped Eisenhower. Even before the crisis developed, farmers and their wives in significant numbers had been saying peace was better under the Republicans, and that the peace issue weighed more heavily with them than their own prosperity or lack of it.

Also in the farm belt and elsewhere, voters demonstrated they are an independent lot, voting for whom they pleased regardless of party affiliations and splitting their tickets all sorts of ways.

Assembly Approves High Priority Tag For Latest Crises

Twin US Moves Get Overwhelming Support for Taking Up Problems In Both Middle East and Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The U. N. emergency Assembly today approved overwhelmingly twin U. S. moves to put the Middle Eastern and Hungarian crises before the regular Assembly with high priority tags. The regular session begins Monday.

The special meeting first voted 66-0 for a resolution by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. which made it certain the Middle East will be considered whenever necessary in the regular session. Guatemala and Greece abstained on that vote.

Losing little time, the Assembly voted 53-9 to give the same status to the Hungarian situation in the new Assembly. The nine Soviet bloc countries in the U. N. voted against the move and 8 countries abstained. The eight were India, Greece, Egypt, Guatemala, Yugoslavia, Yemen, Saudi Arabia and Syria.

After these decisions the emergency Assembly adjourned at 1:25 p. m. Tired delegates departed hopeful of a breather before the 11th Assembly convenes at 3 p. m. Monday. However they could be called back quickly if the situation becomes worse before that hour.

Two prime ministers and 33 foreign ministers are listed for the regular meeting making it the greatest collection of high ranking diplomats ever to attend an Assembly. Lodge will head the U. S. delegation in the absence of Secretary of State Dulles who is recovering from an operation.

The emergency Assembly acted as the Soviet build-up of "volunteers" for Egypt continued and President Eisenhower turned a polite thumbs down to a suggestion by Switzerland that the heads of government of the United States, Britain, France, Soviet Union and India meet to avert World War

III. Eisenhower made it clear the United States wants to continue handling international crises in the U. N. rather than in a summit conference.

Just before the delegates dispersed Omar Loutfi of Egypt sounded a warning of possible complications in the Middle East. He said there was word from Tel Aviv that Israel does not intend to leave the Gaza Strip and this means Israel has decided not to retire behind the 1949 armistice line.

Absentee Vote Fails to Alter Local Winners

Benton Absentees Are Challenged During Counting

The absentee count for Pettis County made no difference in the final outcome of candidates. The closest race was between Sheriff John F. Taylor, up for re-election, and Carl J. Meyer. Taylor going into the absentee count leading Meyer by 361 votes.

In the absentee count Taylor had 282 and Meyer 394 of the 682 ballots. The difference gave Sheriff Taylor a comfortable margin of 249 votes to be re-elected to a new four-year term.

Our neighboring county Benton isn't having too easy a time in getting their some 300 absentee ballots counted. The count began Friday resulting in both the Democrats and the Republicans making challenges on various ballots.

In that county the office of Prosecuting Attorney is at stake. Vernon Frieze, who is seeking reelection was losing in the general election vote by 25 votes, not counting the absentee vote. As a result Democrats interested in trying to protect the lead held by William E. Neff are watching each individual vote, while on the other hand the Republicans are endeavoring to pick up the difference in favor of their candidate.

The judges counting the absentee recessed Friday with but a few votes counted and went through Saturday up to 5 o'clock with a better count, but took recess during the dinner hour. They reported back at 7 o'clock Saturday night and began the chore of trying to get the count completed. It was reported the completion of the count Saturday was doubtful and it might go on again Monday.

A race for Circuit Judge of the Twenty-ninth circuit appears cinched by F. M. Brady, Republican who is running ahead of Judge W. O. Jackson, Democrat. Brady of Warsaw had a lead of about 800 and absentee ballots gave no indication Judge Jackson of Butler could pick them up. Judge Jackson was appointed to the bench by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly to fill the vacancy of Judge Dewey Thatch of Clinton who died. The term being run is for two years, the unexpired term of Judge Thatch.

The absentee count in Pettis County gave: Stevenson-Kefauver 252, Eisenhower-Nixon 430; Hen- (Please turn to page 8 column 6)

Airman Dies, Two Injured In Accident

Fatally Hurt Late Saturday as Auto Rolls Near LaMonte

One Whiteman Air Force Base airman was fatally injured and two others suffered minor injuries Saturday evening when the car he three were riding in went out of control and overturned while taking a curve three miles south of LaMonte on Highway 127.

A/2C Dewaine L. Rose, 22, 340th A & E Squadron, driver of the car, was taken to the WAFB Hospital with critical injuries, along with A/3C Weldon Shields, 18, also of 340th A & E, who sustained lacerations about the head. The third occupant of the vehicle, A/3C Bobby Turney, 18, 340th A & E, reportedly suffering a hip injury, was taken to Bothwell Hospital and later was transferred to the Base Hospital.

Rose died about 11:20 p. m.

Rose was reportedly driving south when he lost control of the car, a 1956 Chevrolet, and rolled several times after leaving the highway. The accident occurred shortly before 9 p. m.

Rose and Shields were picked up by Ewing ambulance and taken to the Base, and Turney was brought to Sedalia by a passing motorist.

The automobile was demolished according to State Troopers Pete Stohr and William S. Meisburger, who investigated the accident.

Harry Sinclair, Oil Firm Founder Dies at Age 80

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 10.—Harry F. Sinclair, founder of the Sinclair Oil Corp. and chairman of the board of the Richfield Oil Corp., died today at his home in the Flintridge district. He was 80. He had been ill for several months.

Sinclair started on a shoestring in the oil fields became a millionaire before he was 35 and rose to become president of the Sinclair Oil Corp.

He retired from active management in 1949 at the age of 72 and five years later as a member of the board by that time the assets of the concern he founded in 1916 had grown from 51 million dollars to around $1,200,000,000. Its earnings topped 68 millions.

In 1927 and 1928 Sinclair was ried on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing of Teapot Dome. A U. S. Navy oil reserve in Wyoming. He was acquitted on this charge but did spend six and a half months in the District of Columbia jail in 1929 for contempt of court and contempt of the United States Senate.

Third Letter in Series—

American Method of Washing Is Strange to India People

Ed. NOTE: This is the third in a series of letters written from India by Miss Marilyn Anderson, an exchange student formerly of the University of Missouri and at one time an apprentice home agent in Pettis County.)

By Marilyn Anderson
For the last month I have been observing the unusual method that Indian men and women use in washing their clothing. Clean water is not a requirement, let alone soap! Many times I have seen some of the dhoties (washermen) washing clothes in streams that were as muddy as the Missouri River or in ponds where hogs and water buffalo were wading. On the other hand, some use water drawn from open wells in the village which is fairly clean. How do they get rid of the dirt? Simply by pounding the garments with a wooden mallet and bleaching them in the sun. After the beating process the garments are stretched out on the ground, bushes, rocks. Only seldom have I seen lines up for hanging the clothing. They think it very strange when I use soap, clean warm water and wash my garments in a vessel by rubbing in my hands.

I must tell you about the Sikh wedding that I attended last week. As my invitation was extended from the groom, I became the only female guest in the groom's wedding party. Here, the bride and groom, send out separate wedding invitations and usually the groom only invites male relatives and friends. His uncle had been my host, there I had the privilege of accompanying him.

The first ceremony had already taken place when I had arrived by bullock cart to the groom's home. The women relatives had given prayers and bathed the young man in milk curds. This signified the cleansing of his body.

A banquet style lunch was served us at 1:30 p.m. The father of the groom had arranged for tent under which we ate, the ceremony of formally making his son the groom and the transportation of groom's party to the bride's village by bus. Following lunch, the father decorated the son's turban, which all Sikhs wear, with a golden ornament with streamers that fell loosely down over his face. Relatives blessed him by passing money around his head and then presenting him with this money. As the hired band played loudly, the groom ascended a white horse richly decorated with golden ornaments and rode down the lane of the farm. In olden times only the men who could ride the wild white horses could get married. This tradition has been passed down through the years and actually doesn't represent anything now.

Upon arrival of the wedding party at the bride's village, a large band announced our arrival. We were immediately served tea in a tent. I had the privilege of attending this fancy tea, as well as the other meals for the groom's wedding party, seated at the head table with the groom and close friends.

The bride's father bears the expense of the wedding. Even though just an average farmer, this was the one occasion when he wants to do all he can for his daughter. Often parents even borrow from the village money lender to give their daughter the best. Housing and feeding some 75 to 100 people, besides the large sums spent on the bride's wardrobe and the actual wedding ceremonies, does amount to a considerable sum. Needless to say, this may be one reason why infant sons are more welcomed into the home than daughters.

After tea I joined the ladies and met the bride. I was astonished, for she looked so shabby and tired. Brides are to remain plain until just before the actual ceremony takes place. The poor bride was under much strain of all the relatives in her parent's home and waiting until the actual ceremony was to take place.

The ceremony of formally making her the bride took place about 5:30. An uncle said a prayer as the women stood around in a circle about the bride and chanted. Then he put on red glass bangles on her wrists, which is the denoting symbol of a bride.

About 8:30 the two wedding parties met. The father of the bride garlanded the groom's father and led the groom's party to his home for dinner in the tent set up in the back courtyard of the house. The men ate first and then the ladies.

Early the next morning the bride was given her bath in milk curd. Then the college girl friends of the bride dressed her in a wine colored Punjabi shirt and pantaloons costume, richly decorated with gold trim. As a typical Indian bride, she wore gold necklace, ear rings, bracelets and a forehead charm.

A few minutes before 9 a. m., dressed in my cotton Punjabi dress with my head covered and barefoot, I entered the tent and seated myself on the rug, camera in hand.

The groom's party sat on the north side and the bride's guests sat on the south. At the east end sat the priest upon an altar arrangement with the Sikh's Holy Book in front of him. Before the Holy Book each guest bowed and placed his offering upon the altar before seating himself. The groom took his place in front of the Holy Book. As three men sang religious songs, the bride entered, her face being completely covered with her wedding veil. The brother, father and close girl friends followed her in. In due respect for her father-in-law, she had her body completely covered. (Many women still do not show their face before the father-in-law.) The bride joined the groom seated before the altar.

The ceremony consists of two hours of religious song, sermons on responsibility of marriage, scripture readings and advice to the couple. Marriages are considered to be the most sacred here in India. The actual wedding ceremony vows take place when the priest reads commandments relating to religion, children and husband and wife relations, and they promise to obey these by the groom leading the bride four times about the altar.

At the end of the ceremony some Indian sweet of moist, sweetened wheat meal was served out in the hand to everyone. The bride proceeded out and the group disbanded to congratulate the couple, although they were still separated. The bride did uncover her lovely face after the ceremony.

It was rather sad when at 4 p.m. the bride, with all her new belongings, had to say good-bye to her parents and leave with her husband to his father's house. Going to a complete stranger's home, and realizing that she would never return to her parents' home must cause much anxiety.

True, people of the more educated group feel these elaborate weddings are not actually enjoyed by those concerned, and needless to say, money is foolishly spent, but people feel socially and traditionally forced to stage them for their daughters.

In most respects, our wedding customs are similar to these here in India. Mate selection by parents and length of wedding are the main differences, probably.

Chandler Has Better Chance At Presidency

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler's aspirations for the presidency apparently have increased with the passing of the one-time Clements-Wetherby political powerhouse into Republican hands.

The combine's collapse was completed late yesterday when the GOP's Thurston B. Morton went ahead to stay in his neck-and-neck Senate race with Sen. Earle C. Clements.

Former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby had been handed a resounding defeat earlier by John Sherman Cooper for the four years remaining in the Senate term of the late Alben W. Barkley.

Commenting on the election results at a press conference, Chandler said he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 if he can get party support.

He said he thought he deserved consideration because he assumed the Democrats will be looking for a presidential candidate who "can run and win. I'm a fair runner—maybe as good as some they have supported."

Asked to comment on Adlai Stevenson's decisive defeat and the Republican senatorial victory in Kentucky, Chandler said it was his practice to go by the "scoreboard," indicating the results speak for themselves.

Chandler, who bid unsuccessfully for the Democratic presidential nomination in August, never actively supported Stevenson, and his differences with Clements and Wetherby were considered a factor in their defeat.

The election of Morton and Cooper means Kentucky will have two Republican senators serving simultaneously for only the second time in history. And with Clements and Wetherby out of power, it gives Chandler more say-so in state party organization.

With only 62 of 4,057 precincts missing, Morton's lead stood today at 497,089 to 492,494 for Clements.

Sedalia CAP Plays Host To Children

Sedalia Squadron of Civil Air Patrol played host to nine visitors from the Crippled Children's Center of Bothwell Hospital Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6 at Sedalia Memorial Airport. The purpose of the visit was to acquaint the children with an airplane.

The children, who were from the older classes, are studying a unit on transportation, which will later include buses, trains and other modes of transportation. This phase promotes social adjustment for the children, helping to acquaint them with their community. Not only is the study beneficial to them educationally, but it is also fun.

Mrs. Rudolph Swope is the director and instructor at the Center and was aided on the outing by volunteer workers, Mrs. Pierre Lamy, Mrs. Roger Guilbault and Miss Ada Gamber.

The group arrived at the airport at 3:15 and Maj. Bill Padgett, squadron commander, took charge to instruct the group on the functions of an airport and to show the children at first hand the working parts of the CAP airplane. The children were all delighted when they received a toy airplane glider.

The highlight of the afternoon came when Dr. Pete Siegel, medical officer of the CAP, arrived, rolled his big Cessna airplane from the hangar, took off and landed again directly in front of the children who were sitting a few feet away on the airport landing strip. The children nearly bubbled over with laughter at their instructor, Mrs. Swope, who took her first, unintended, airplane ride.

Mrs. Swope climbed into the airplane with Dr. Siegel, with Mrs. Guilbault and Miss Gamber, thinking that Dr. Siegel was only going to taxi the plane up and down the field. But Dr. Siegel took off instead, and a few minutes later when Mrs. Swope climbed out, she was beside herself with excitement and the children howled with glee.

Maj. Padgett was assisted by Lt. Ray Anderson, Lt. Betty Padgett, Lt. Lois Gordon, Capt. D. Kelly Scruton, Mrs. Jack Kehl and Joe Ream.

To Conduct Church Drive In November

A program to emphasize the importance of religion in everyday life is being conducted in Sedalia during November as part of the national Religion in American Life (RIAL) program, it was announced today by the Rev. Doyle Ross Mabry, of the Shrine of Jesus, 2107 South Missouri.

The goal of the program will be to increase attendance and support for local churches and synagogues, Mabry said.

Centering around the campaign theme, "Build a Stronger, Richer Life, Worship Together Every Week," local activities will stress the value of regular attendance at worship services, Mabry said, to point up the fundamental importance of religion in personal, family and community life.

"When a family attends worship together, they are in a real sense safeguarding their future happiness," Mabry said. "For the family that walks side by side on God's day, walks side by side every day along a path that will stand as the foundation for the whole of life."

The RIAL campaign will be repeated in hundreds of communities across the country throughout November as part of the annual, non-sectarian program conducted by the Committee on Religion in American Life, Inc. The national program is sponsored by a committee of laymen from the major faiths headed by Joseph H. McConnell, director and general counsel, Reynolds Metals Co. Twenty-four national religious bodies participate. American business, through the Advertising Council, contributes nationwide advertising in all major media in support of the campaign.

Old Bugler Will Fulfill An Old Dream

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(P)—American Legionnaires scurried about Paris today seeking some old World War I puttees to complete the costume of bugler Hartley Edwards and help him fulfill his dream.

The 61-year-old veteran from Denison, Tex., last played his bugle in France 37 years ago before French Marshal Ferdinand Foch and U. S. Gen. John J. Pershing. Ever since then he has looked forward to the day when he could answer the invitation Foch gave him on that occasion and play "taps" at a Paris Armistice Day celebration.

Whether puttees are found or not, he's going to do it tomorrow. "I've been looking forward to it for a long time," Edwards said today. "I'm going home early tonight for some more practice to make sure."

On Armistice Day in 1918 Edwards was bugler with H Company, 59th Regiment, 4th Division at the front. Later he was selected for the Pershing Drum and Bugle Corps, which played in victory celebrations in France and Britain in 1919.

"They made us practice eight hours a day for 30 days," Edwards recalls. "But when we were through we were a pretty sharp outfit."

Foch heard the bugle corps at two mammoth ceremonies in Paris on July 4 and July 14, 1919. The marshal told Pershing he hoped the men could come back some day and Pershing passed the invitation proudly on to the members of the corps.

When he returned to France early this month Edwards brought with him the same bugle he played in Pershing's "band." He also has with him his World War I helmet.

With the welcome of the French government and the aid of the Paris American Legion post, Edwards will play taps twice tomorrow at the Arch de Triomphe. Though he slacked off on his bugling after the war, Edwards has long been a musician and said he is now "pretty good" again with the bugle. He is staying with his son-in-law, Maj. Kenneth Klein, now stationed in Paris. He practices in Klein's basement with his

Watch Out For Smooth Promotion-Talk

"One of the most important things about human relationship is cultivation of genuine interest in the other fellow. Good communities, like Sedalia, are built around such people."

Among many others, this was one of the gems of wisdom presented the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet by Daniel R. Blount, International Shoe Company, St. Louis, upon the occasion of installation of new Chamber president Vernon F. Rodick.

Before a capacity crowd the speaker alternately bombarded his listeners with morale-boosting, civic-building suggestions, and machine gunned them with jokes, some of which were ticklish.

We recall that he said, "Men do not stumble over big things but more often over little things. This may not be considered such a formidable pronouncement by Mr. Blount when he otherwise had his audience veritably 'hanging on the ropes,' but the remark does suit the present theme of the balance of this editorial.

What we want to call attention to is the dismal recurrence of Chamber of Commerce members being so captivated by the siren-songs of out-of-town profit-making promoters and bad-check passers.

The pre-holiday season seems to be the time for such gullibility. Now is the time organized groups begin to victimize Sedalia merchants. Experienced and inexperienced help should be warned, and the merchants themselves should be on the alert against unscrupulous individuals.

The advertising promotion racket by strangers in our midst seems to be one of the most effective ways of bilking Sedalia's businessmen. A fast talking individual making personal calls or using the telephone outlines an advertising program which he says is sponsored by a church or club. He does not offer to show credentials of authorization from a priest or minister or club president or the Chamber of Commerce. The amazing thing about this is the disregard of repeated warnings by the Chamber not to participate in an unauthorized promotion unless a solicitor can produce credentials.

So it's the same old story again in Sedalia. Embarrassment to those whose names are used without proper privilege, and monetary loss for merchants who lent financial support to an unprofitable project.

There are many city and county church, school and club organizations which local merchants prefer to support. Merchants do not want to be nose with the solicitors, so perhaps this is the reason a stranger in town can put over a scheme so easily. Business men hesitate to ask for credentials even when a stranger suggests he represents a church or local organization.

Nevertheless we believe every solicitor, local or not, ought to carry Chamber of Commerce identification and approval along with a letter from a sponsoring organization before making the rounds of Sedalia merchants. Furthermore the merchants ought to cooperate by insisting on identification instead of reaching for their check book or cash so readily.

The whole program of protection is broken down if it is not observed universally. Sedalia thereby gets a reputation as being a sucker town for all sorts of shady promotions, bad check passers and bogus bills.

Yes, indeed, recent experiences certainly indicate men stumble over the little things.

So let's watch our step the next time and take genuine interest in the other fellow, especially the smooth talking stranger who comes here just before the holiday season when it is so easy to stumble over little $5 and $10 advertising promotion sales ideas of solicitors from out of town who don't bother to obtain credentials.

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

'New Nixon' to Back Ike GOP Plan

WASHINGTON—The day before elections President Eisenhower had a friendly talk with his understudy, Vice President Nixon, in which he sketched some of his hopes and ambitions for the future. White House friends say the talk was most significant.

The President knew then that, despite some of the earlier fears of his associates, he was certain to be re-elected. So he outlined to Nixon his plans to rebuild the Republican party in his own image. Part of what he told Nixon he later told the television audience when he made his brief election speech and outlined his plans for modern Republicanism.

Nixon, of course, has belonged to the opposite wing of the GOP. When in the Senate he voted against practically all the Roosevelt-Truman measures which Eisenhower has largely embraced. Nixon's voting record shows that he opposed reciprocal trade, whereas Eisenhower has staunchly supported it. Nixon opposed foreign aid, whereas Eisenhower has pushed it personally. Nixon also voted to reduce school lunches, crop insurance, social security and the scope of minimum wages. Ike's program has been just the opposite.

In this pre-election talk with Eisenhower, however, White House friends say that Nixon pledged his support to Ike's dream for a modern Republican party. White House advisers also say that the "New Nixon" who followed the "High Road" during the campaign, will continue to be the "New Nixon."

Note—A leopard, it's said, cannot change its spots. It will be interesting to see whether a politician can.

Ike to Lose 4 Cabinet Chiefs

It looks as if President Eisenhower would have four vacancies to fill in his new cabinet. He will fill some of them with great regret.

The four who want to retire to private life are John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense, and Marion Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Of these, the man Eisenhower will miss most is Secretary of the Treasury. On economic matters he has been the dominant voice in the cabinet. His views, far more than those of Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, have prevailed. Eisenhower has also leaned on Humphrey regarding most major policy, including defense. One of his frequent statements when asked about an important decision, is: "Let's see what George thinks of that."

However, Humphrey, who originally planned to stay only two years, has now stayed four. He feels the time has come to return to private business, and although he won't retire immediately, he hopes to do so sometime in 1957.

Secretary Folsom, who has greatly improved Mrs. Hobby's administration of Health, Education and Welfare, is in much the same boat. He wants to go back to private life, and the President will have a hard time changing his mind.

Charlie Wilson, whose tongue has wagged the administration into many hot spots, also wants to get out. He has developed a genuine affection for the warmhearted but sometimes bumbling Secretary of Defense. He will be missed personally, but not professionally.

Weinberg Helps Pick'em

Secretary Dulles is in a category of his own. He passed up the offer of an appointment to the Supreme Court this fall, preferring his work in the State Department. However, regardless of his illness, which is serious, White House advisers have had misgivings about his continuation as Secretary of State. They felt that the breach between our old allies, France and Britain, over Suez reached a point where a new man should pilot the foreign policy of the United States.

Possible successors to Dulles include Henry Cabot Lodge, Ambassador to the United Nations who rates high with Ike; ex-Gov. Tom Dewey, one of Ike's closest political advisers; and John J. McCloy, former assistant Secretary of War, high commissioner to Germany, and now head of the Chase Bank.

Note—Sidney Weinberg, the Presidential adviser who has helped pick more cabinet members for Ike and put more military men in key business jobs, has already been working on cabinet replacements. It was Weinberg who picked Humphrey for the Treasury and Wilson for the Defense Department. He operates through his close friend, Gen. Lucius Clay, whom he made head of Continental Can. Clay formed a fast friendship with the President when they served in the army together.

Herbert Hoover Improves

U. S. diplomats credit Herbert Hoover, Jr., with doing a better job than expected as acting Secretary of State now that John Foster Dulles is ill.

Young Hoover is not renowned for his knowledge of foreign affairs. He is frank, charming, naive. He is even frank enough to admit that he doesn't know too much about foreign affairs, and once, when riots were blazing on the Greek-British island of Cyprus, he made the naive confession that he would "Have to read up on Cyprus."

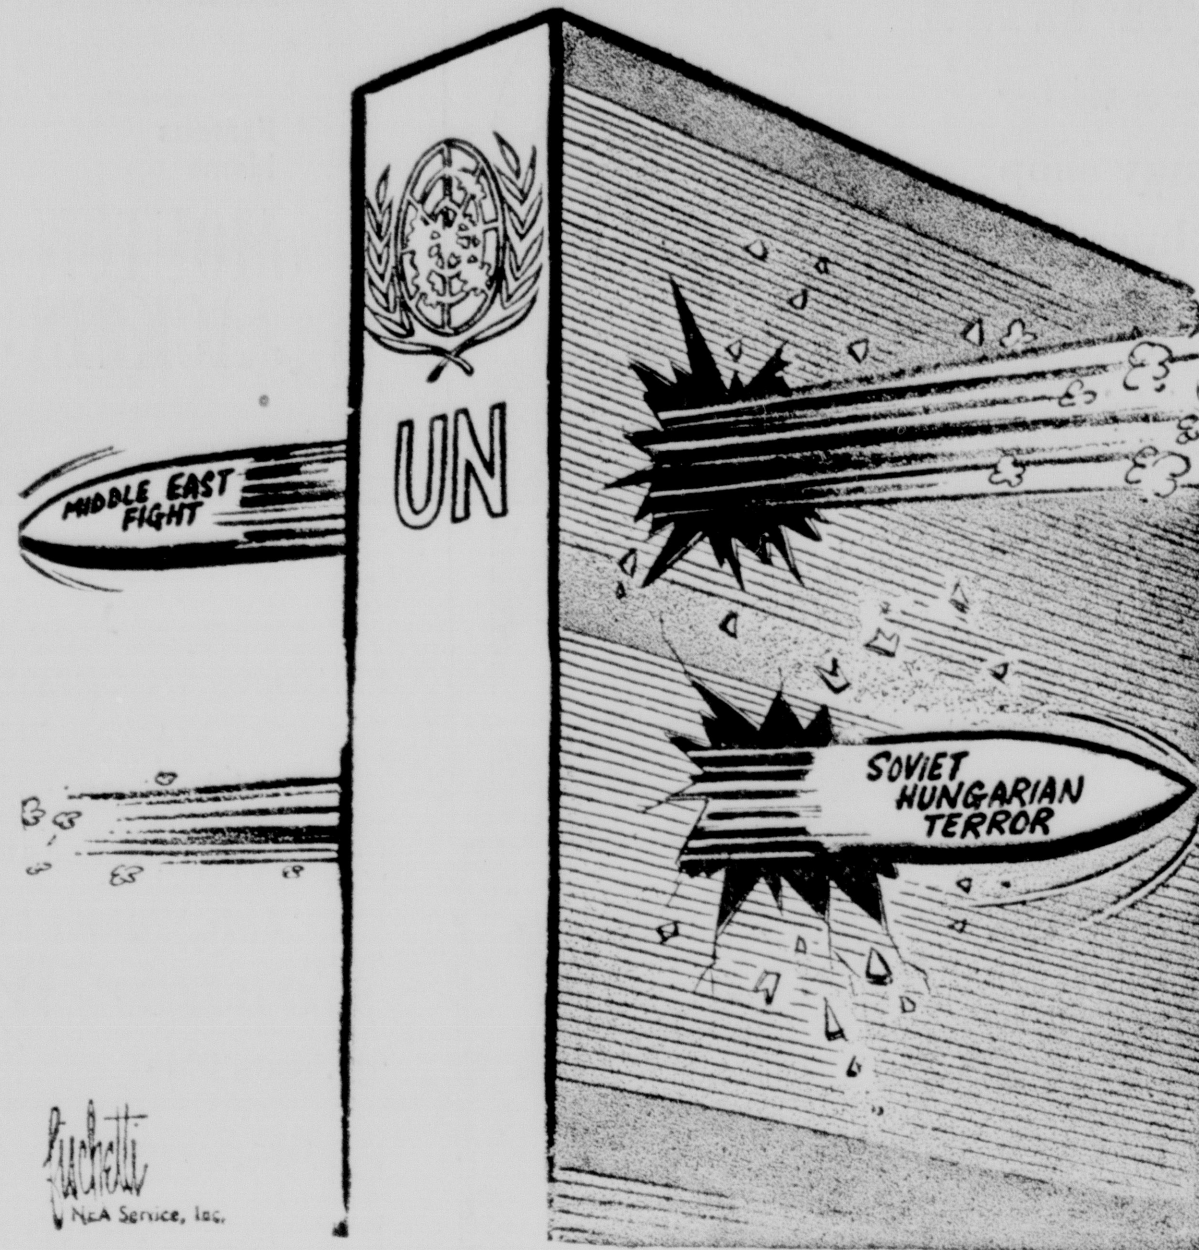

The fact that Hoover is unsure of himself, however, has steadied American foreign policy and done something for it that John Foster Dulles seldom did. It has revived regular staff conferences.

When Dulles was active it was said, rather accurately, that where Foster's hat was, there was the Department of State. He carried every problem in his head or in his briefcase. A standing wisecrack around the State Department was that Foster was not only Secretary of State but the Egyptian desk as well. This referred to the State Department set-up whereby each country is in charge of a specialist, and every problem pertaining to that country goes to the Egyptian desk, the Israeli desk, the British desk, and so on.

Now that Dulles is ill, Hoover has revived the regular staff conferences of Acheson's day. The men who are now deciding major foreign policy are Robert Murphy, deputy undersecretary; Douglas MacArthur II, nephew of the General and son-in-law of the late Vice President Alben Barkley; Loy Henderson, long-time expert on the Near East; and C. Burke Elbrick, acting assistant Secretary of State for European affairs.

It was this quartet, not the White House, which fired two statements back at Russia in the Hungarian-Russian-Egyptian crisis so quickly last week. They told Bulganin in the name of the White House that Russia had an obligation to pull its troops out of Hungary. They also rejected Bulganin's invitation to gang up with Russia against Britain and France at Suez.

Under the Eisenhower general staff system they had full scope to operate. The President believes in delegating authority, and now he's delegating to Herbert Hoover, Jr., and Hoover, in turn, delegates to the experts. As a result, foreign policy is doing better.

Woman Plays Vital Research Role On Navy Rocket; Fires 15 Without Error

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "They have never cut down an Aerobee-Hi that I had anything to do with," Eleanor Pressly is not one to brag, but that's a statement she's proud to make.

To explain the jargon requires a description of one of the most exciting and vital jobs any woman now holds.

Miss Pressly, 38, is probably history's first woman to throw a lever that sets off a major U.S. rocket. A wind ballistics expert at the Naval Research Laboratory here, it's her job to figure the exact angle at which unguided rockets should be set before they are blasted into the heavens.

If she makes a mistake, the missile will not land in a safe area when it falls back to earth. If this happens, it's necessary to trigger a charge in the rocket to destroy it. That's what they call "cutting down" a rocket.

So far, any rocket Miss Pressly has directed into space has never been cut down. She has been in on 15 firings of the Navy's Aerobee-Hi at the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico.

The Aerobee-Hi is an unguided rocket being used by the Naval Research Laboratory for upper atmosphere research. One Aerobee fired at White Sands reached a height of 164 miles and established a new record for an American-built boosted rocket.

On this occasion, as many others, Miss Pressly operated out of a special blockhouse where she calculates the correct position of the rocket on its nearby tower.

With one eye on an anemometer, the other on wind reports coming in from balloons and on a crew of computers, she keeps a constant watch six hours previous to firing.

"It's a busy, busy time," she says.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A generous amount of food was turned in at the welfare office in Sedalia by a considerable number of Green Ridge residents for distribution among needy families in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gillespie moved into their new home, 1804 South Barrett, from 908 South Ohio. Their new residence was of American-Spanish architecture.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Weer, former Sedalians, were here from Boonville for a visit of several days with relatives and friends.

FORTY YEARS AGO

On his bid of $53,324 J. W. Menee was awarded the contract for construction of a sewage disposal plant northwest of Sedalia. The action was at an adjourned session of the city council.

An instructive talk was given at the public library by Charles E. Yeater on Daniel Boone and other pioneers at the weekly story hour.

says. "And I always have to make sure somebody doesn't do something wild like calling a north wind a south wind."

That actually happened, but she caught the mistake before the rocket went off. She will never forget the time she had to call a halt on a firing 30 seconds before firing time.

"That's the toughest experience I've ever had with rockets," relates this youthful-looking woman who gives the appearance of a happy housewife set for a round of afternoon bridge. She has bright blue eyes, blonde hair and an infectious laugh.

"This was an Aerobee set to go off in the evening to measure the light of the night sky," she explains. "It was last July Fourth. No moon was out and it was the final chance we had for a long while to make the test."

"Everything was going fine until 30 seconds before firing, when the wind completely changed direction. It was a sudden and unusual switch and I had to tell them to stop the count so the tower could be readjusted," she recalls.

"My big worry then was whether this abrupt shift of wind would hold until we got the rocket off again. In about four minutes it was put in a new position."

"The wind held, we said a prayer and fired it. The flight turned out fine and the rocket went over 100 miles."

On several occasions Miss Pressly has been completely in charge of rocket firings at White Sands. This fall she will be at Fort Churchill in Manitoba, Canada, for a series of four rocket tests.

During the summer of 1955 she made some of the first calculations to determine how long the earth satellite could be expected to stay up.

"Essentially, I'm a mathematician," says Eleanor, who has been at the Naval Research Laboratory for 11 years. During the war she worked at the radio research laboratory at Harvard. She's from South Carolina and received her MA in math from Duke University.

Her favorite hobby is choir and solo singing. She also dabbles in painting.

Prisoner Sleeps While Policeman Rescues 2 People From Fire

KANSAS CITY — A policeman on the way to jail with an intoxicated prisoner rescued two men from a burning cafe.

Billy Witcig saw the fire and notified the fire department. He went to the rear of the place, broke in a door and led Noah H. Studebaker, 76, to safety. Studebaker told him there was another man inside. Witcig returned and brought out John McCoy, 37, a crippled man. McCoy was unable to walk because the braces he uses were under his bed.

Meanwhile, the intoxicated prisoner slept through the incident in the back seat of the police car.

Homes

O, houses may be big or small

But some are never homes at all.

Some are just shells in which folks live

Where no one ever seems to give

The love, the time, the faith homes need

And in them only hate will breed,

There is no time to guide and care

For little children who live there.

A home is where young lives begin.

And it may lead to good or sin;

A home must have the warmth and glow

Where real love from all hearts must flow.

It must be where the children play.

A place where young folks want to stay,

It should have space for old folks, too.

It must have something they can do.

Each member of the household must

Have for each other love and trust,

And they must learn that self control

Is needed for their peace of soul.

They will not like what others do

But each has his shortcomings, too.

And maybe things we do they hate.

Perhaps, sometimes, we irritate.

It's well when people look to see

And think — now what is wrong with me?

Am I as good as I believe?

Do I give more than I receive?

Do I go far beyond my duty

To fill my home with warmth and beauty?

Do I sincerely try to be

Like I want folks to be to me?

When homes are merely houses try

To figure out the reason why.

For when a family lives together

It needs all love that it can gather

And each must learn to know the rest.

But always know themselves the best.

Eisenhower Victory Can Leave No Resentments

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The postelection consensus in the average American family will probably be that President Eisenhower won clean and fair.

There can be no criticism from the Democrats on the type of campaign he waged. There can be no cry of "foul."

There can be no cause for resentment, as there might have been if the election result had been the other way.

Ex-President Harry S. Truman predicted at the opening of the Democratic national convention in Chicago that ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson could not defeat Eisenhower. There is no assurance that Truman's preferred candidate, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—or any other Democrat for that matter—could have done any better. Truman himself revised his prediction after Stevenson defeated Harriman and the others at Chicago.

But if there is any one thing that defeated Stevenson in the election, it was probably the fact that he followed too much the Harry Truman "give 'em hell" type of campaign.

Either by his own choice or because of bad advice, Stevenson stepped completely out of character to wage his campaign of personal abuse for the Republican candidates.

The campaign issues he chose to emphasize were not his constructive ideas for a better program for a better America. Instead, he harped on criticism. It didn't go over.

Other factors entered into the result, of course. Organized labor's Committee on Political Education just didn't produce, except in scattered local returns. Secy. of Labor James P. Mitchell probably called the turn in declaring that the election results dispel the myth that the Democratic party is the party of labor.

The revolt of the farmers didn't materialize, either. Secy. of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson campaigned all through the farm belt, faced his critics in more than 100 meetings, and obviously won over the majority.

He was aided materially, of course, by a farm program which spent government money liberally on the soil bank and on the purchase of hamburger, pork, turkeys, eggs and other perishables in which surpluses appeared. There was nothing wrong about this, for it was all authorized by law, and the Democrats did it, too, when they were in power.

Two other truisms are being applied: Nothing succeeds like success. There is no substitute for money.

The man in the White House always has the advantage in an election. President Eisenhower made the most of it.

His party spent over twice as much on its campaign as the Democrats, and made the most of that, too.

By comparison, the Democratic campaign never got off the ground.

Only the size of the Republican majority and its sweep through the South—far greater than even the most optimistic polls predicted—gave cause for surprise. All the political analyses that it would be a much closer race than four years ago were made ridiculous.

After such a sweeping victory it is always easy to say that the losing party is through. But such forecasts have never paid off.

The final words of both 1956 candidates serve as challenges to the two parties for 1960, when there will be new faces at the head of both tickets.

"We have lost the battle but our cause will ultimately prevail," said Stevenson. "Be of good cheer."

"As long as the Republican party remains true to the ideals of America," said President Eisenhower, "it will continue to increase in power for years to come."

Basal Metabolism Test Is Aid to Studying Thyroid

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

I. S. asks, "What does a basal metabolism test prove? If a person's test shows minus 22, is it serious? Can it be treated successfully? Will smoking hurt?"

The basal metabolism test serves as an aid in studying the action of the thyroid gland. This is one of the glands of internal secretion, lying at the base of the neck. In the presence of certain abnormalities of this gland, particularly the disorder known as toxic goiter, the result of the test is expressed as a plus figure; if the gland is underactive, the result is given as a minus figure.

The metabolism test is simple enough for the patient. After a good night's sleep, he goes to the doctor's office, laboratory or hospital without eating any breakfast or drinking anything. The patient lies down on a bed or cot, and breathes normally through a tube. What is breathed in and out is measured and recorded. There is no danger of suffocating, as some nervous people seem to fear. Nor is the test hard on the heart.

The calculations are made afterward. The patients' height and weight must also be known. These figures are put together in a formula, and the final calculation tells whether one is burning the body tissues too swiftly, too slowly, or at a normal rate. When the doctor gives the results, he says the metabolism was plus or minus so much.

The basal metabolism is only one method of testing the activity of the thyroid gland. Ordinarily, however, a figure for the basal metabolism between minus 15 and plus 15 is considered about normal.

If the metabolism is much more than plus 15, one is probably using up food and tissues too fast. This may explain nervousness and loss of weight. Usually (but not always), this is the result of a toxic goiter, and medical or surgical treatment may be needed.

A basal metabolism recorded as minus 22 is what doctors call a "border-line" figure. A person in whom this figure is found may or may not improve if he is given thyroid extract by mouth. It should probably not be considered as really "serious." If it is the result of lowered thyroid action, it can be corrected simply by taking thyroid pills in the right quantities.

It is probable that smoking does not exert any specific harmful effects.

Over the years, the basal metabolism test has been of enormous help to physicians in making a diagnosis and in observing the results of treatment.

All Work, No Play Makes Marriage Just Plain Dull

Work. Work. Work. No vacations. No time for fun. And now the wife has become interested in a younger man who works for the same company that she does. She admits she has a good husband but she also admits she is fed up with a life in which there is no time for pleasure. Their children are almost grown and she is beginning to wonder if she hasn't a right to some happiness herself.

Sure, she has. But she won't find any happiness in having an affair with the younger man or breaking up her marriage in order to marry him.

It's too late to make a new life for herself. But it isn't too late to take a good look at her marriage and her old life and see how both can be improved.

Why have she and her husband done nothing but work for years

Is it because they wanted so many things they forgot about the importance of enjoying life from day to day and year to year

Is it because they have tried to give their children too much

Or is it just because they have gotten so in the habit of working they have forgotten how to stop and enjoy themselves along the way

The best thing this wife could do is to arrange for a vacation with her husband. Once they get away from their home and their jobs — if it is even for a few days—it will be easier to talk and plan for the future.

Together they should be able to work out a better pattern for living than just work, work, work. All work and no play is not a satisfactory pattern for any marriage.

Modern Fixtures Help Sales

Builders Use Color Fixtures in Baths As Prime Movers

An essential factor in selling or renting older homes is interior attractiveness, especially in bathrooms, says the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers' Association.

Builders throughout the nation are concentrating on the installation of colored bathroom fixtures as prime movers in the sale of new homes. To compete with contemporary homes on the real estate market, older houses must spruce up; add color, spaciousness and convenience.

Small, cramped bathrooms with antiquated, noisy fixtures, unsightly piping and worn flooring are conspicuous eyesores in older homes. With the wide variety of streamlined, colorful bathroom products now available, remodeling is a valuable and wise investment.

For example, modern lavatories, toilets and bathtubs are made in many pleasantly matching pastel shades. Vanity dressing tables, for bath or bedroom installation, come with custom built storage cabinets and vary in shape. Triangular, square, rectangular and especially fitted corner models can be obtained for placement where space is at a minimum.

An important new fixture currently being introduced in American homes is the bidet. Long a standard feature throughout Europe and South America, the bidet is commonly installed adjacent to toilets to permit easier and better rectal hygiene.

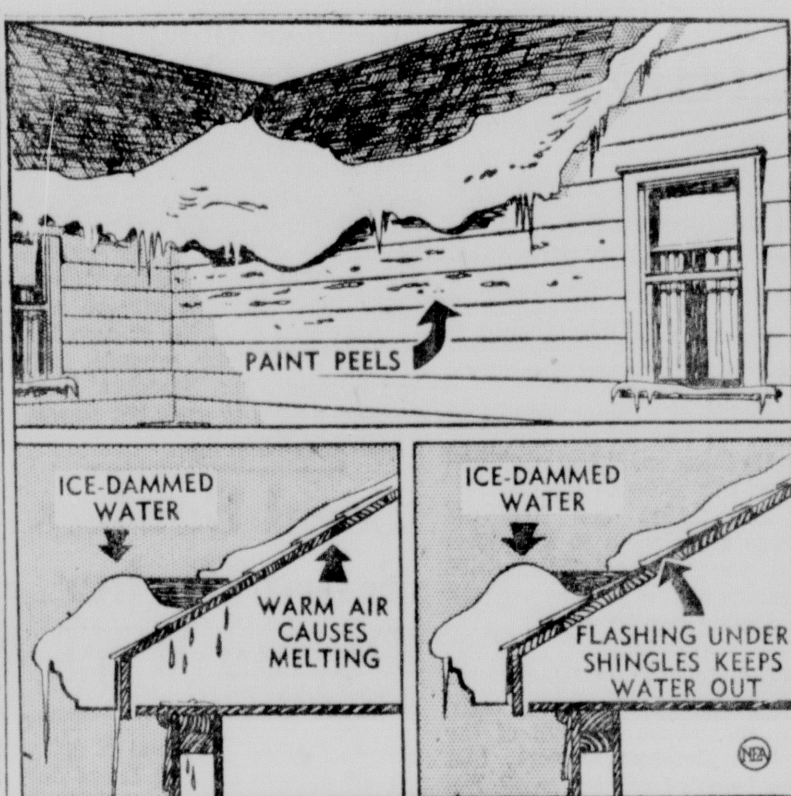

Installation of new, colored fixtures in an older bathroom together with proper lighting, ventilation and attractively toned, painted or wall-papered walls will add eye appeal, convenience and luxury. The owner who wishes to rent or sell will find that modern, sanitary conveniences will help move his home faster and at a higher price.

Advance planning and the proper selection of fixtures are important to a successful bathroom modernization or expansion program.

Before modernizing, the existing bathroom should be examined to decide whether more "elbow room" can be obtained by rearranging the fixtures.

Space-saving fixtures now on the market will add precious inches and avoid that cramped, crowded appearance so characteristic of old-fashioned bathrooms.

If you plan to add a bathroom, it is wise to look around the house for a good, convenient location. Many average-size homes offer

Neglect of Gutters Will Result in Expensive Trouble

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Neglect of a seemingly minor household maintenance chore—that of keeping gutters and downspouts free of debris—can lead to expensive trouble.

"Trouble" takes the form of damage caused by water, ice and snow. "Damage," in turn, consists of peeling paint on side walls under the eaves, disfigured walls and ceilings and rotted structural members within the walls.

If your home has been damaged by any of those three conditions you can blame only yourself. For your failure to keep gutters and downspouts clear probably resulted in this four-part sequence of events:

1. In winter, heat escaping upward melts snow on the roof.

2. Now water, it flows to cold space possibilities for a second or third bathroom. A "waste" area under the stairs, an unused closet, an unnecessary pantry, or even a portion of a large bedroom might well hold the key to extra facilities.

You should also consider the number of people who will be using the new bath. Careful selection of fixtures can reduce bathroom congestion and give lasting satisfaction to the entire family.

The little extra time spent in advance planning for your bathroom will be well worthwhile. Above all, give careful thought to the fixtures; they are the basic foundation of a beautiful and comfortable bathroom.

zones lower down on the roof and in the gutters.

3. With its movement restricted by debris in the gutter, the water freezes, forming dams which block the escape of more melted snow.

4. Trapped in pools behind the "ice dams," water works its way under shingles and roof covering to the interior.

Chances are the first visible damage, it's best to eliminate the walls and ceilings as damp spots appear and grow larger. If immediate steps are not taken to correct the condition, ceiling plaster may fall.

In addition, siding of the house directly under the eaves is subjected to the destructive onslaught from overflowing gutters and paint may begin to peel off.

Before attempting to repair the damage, it's best to eliminate the possibility of future trouble. For one thing, install additional insulation on the attic side of the roof to reduce the amount of warm air escaping through the roof from indoors.

Another trick is to install waterproof electric heating cables along the lower 16 inches of the roof—as well as in gutters and downspouts. These devices enable you—at the flick of a switch—to keep the gutter clear for passage of water (providing, of course other causes of stoppage are removed).

A third method consists of installing sheet-metal flashing beneath roof shingles from the gutters' edge upward to a point beyond the danger zone, or approximately three feet past the wall line. Although this does not prevent the formation of ice dams, it keeps moisture out of the interior of the house.

Should repairing the leaks appear too hazardous or difficult to the home handyman, call on an experienced roofing contractor to

Proper Color Makes Rooms Seem Changed

There's a sort of magic in a can of paint. With a little knowledge of the tricks you can do with properly chosen paint—colors, you can make a room seem warmer or cooler, you can apparently alter its size and shape and you can bring it remarkable new beauty.

First, you need to know that the warm colors are the reds, oranges, yellows, yellow-greens and their variations: buff, for instance, peach and cream. The cool colors include such hues as the blues, greens, and violets.

Keep this fact in mind when selecting paint for a too-cool room with a north or northeast exposure. Decide on a warm color for walls and woodwork and it will seem warmer than the thermometer might justify.

When choosing paint for a south—or southwestern—room, select a cool hue and the blaze of the sun will seem less insistent.

Light tints of cool—or "retreating"—colors, as they are also known, will make a small room seem larger when used on the walls. Strong tones of the warm—or "advancing"—colors will make a too-large room seem smaller, more inviting.

To make a "boxy" room more interesting, paint the wall you wish to be most interesting in a color different from the other three.

To make a too long room seem better proportioned, paint the end walls in a dark tone; the two side walls in a lighter hue.

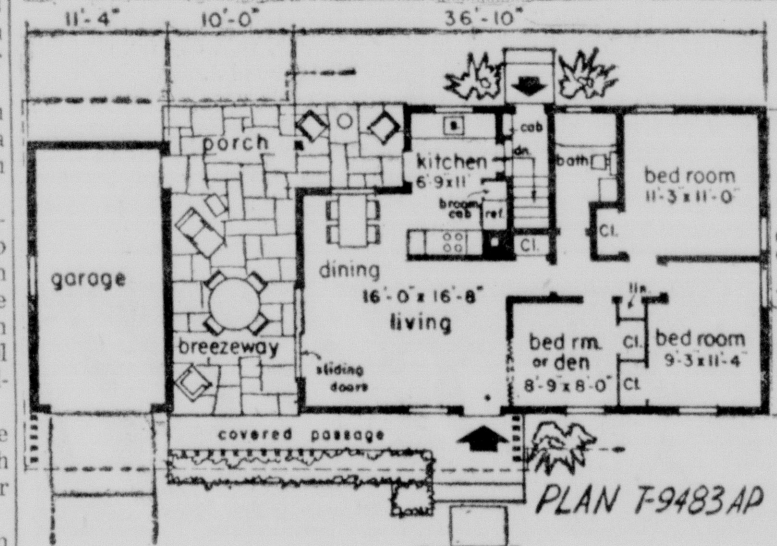

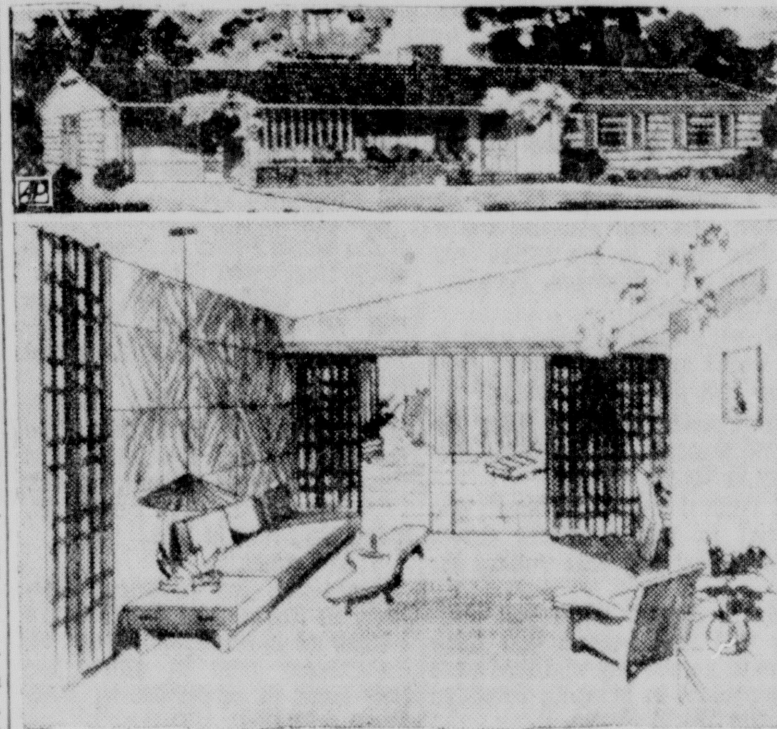

The use of such paint-color tricks can do much to improve your home.

Locate Leaks in Roof Before They Cause Some Serious Damage

There's no sound quite so dismal as that of drops of water falling into a pan set under a hole in a leaky roof. Those leaks aren't hard to find. The dangerous leaks are those which never quite seep through the ceiling where they may be seen, but do cause wood and insulation rot, and paint flaking and peeling.

Those leaks should be ferreted out and repaired before they cause serious and expensive damage to the home. Water stains on the attic ceiling or between roofing beams are a good indication that roofing shingles aren't doing their job. Rust stains around roofing nails also indicate that water is seeping through. If, after a heavy rain, you find that between-stud insulation in the attic is damp, then there is further proof the roof leaks.

Should repairing the leaks appear too hazardous or difficult to the home handyman, call on an experienced roofing contractor to

LUXURY ON A BUDGET is designed into this compact and economical plan. The house covers only 809 square feet, yet has a three-bedroom capacity by virtue of its convertible den. Laundry Tub Serves As Excellent Sandbox

Here's a way to keep Junior occupied indoors on rainy days with no danger that he'll tear up the house. An indoor, portable sandbox is easily made by filling a galvanized steel laundry tub with sand and placing it on an enclosed porch, in the garage or in the basement.

A steel laundry tub provides plenty of room for Junior's lead soldier military maneuvers, castle building and tunneling. The sides of the tub are low enough that he can reach it easily, and there is no damage he can do to the sturdy tub.

Tile Floor Will Convert Garage Or Basement Into Another Room

Your basement or even your garage—can become an attractive room for entertaining, a hobby workshop or a pleasant playroom—with tile flooring.

Asphalt, rubber, cork or vinyl tiles are practical and easy to install yourself. They come in a wide range of colors, and since they are laid a block at a time, there's almost a limitless opportunity to create a floor design that exactly suits any decorative scheme.

First of all, it's important that the floor be dry so that the primer and cement will stick to the surface of the concrete. Installation should not be attempted until you are certain the floor is dry.

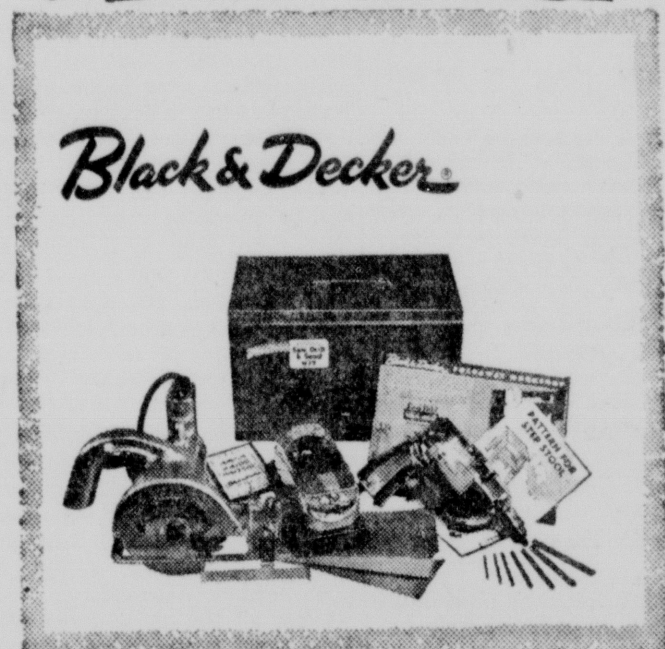

Also make sure that the surface of the concrete is smooth, level and hard. Cracks should be filled by applying crack filler with a putty knife.

When you buy your tiles, your local dealer will furnish you with step-by-step directions for preparing, designing and laying your tile. If you follow these carefully, you'll have a floor you can be proud of!

A frequent waxing and an occasional washing will keep its surface protected from dirt and assure long life.

Plan now to make your basement an extra "livable" room at low cost to you!

Fumbling Tigers
Virtually Concede
Bowl Bid to Buffs
In Big 7 Saturday

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 10.—(P)—The University of Colorado Buffaloes for all practical purposes won the Big Seven Conference's spot in the Orange Bowl in a come-from-behind 14-14 tie with the fumbling Missouri Tigers today.

The tie gave Colorado a conference record of four victories, one loss and one tie. Missouri, with a 2-1-1 conference record, could figure in a tie with Colorado, but the Tigers would have to defeat both Oklahoma and Kansas in their remaining games.

Playing in crisp bright weather before 25,000, Missouri stunned Colorado with a touchdown in the second and third quarters and appeared to have the favored Buffaloes on the run when Tiger backs began their customary fumbling tactics.

Trailing 0-14, the Buffaloes got back in the game in the third quarter when they recovered a fumble on the Missouri 33 yard line and seven plays later quarterback Boyd Dowler tossed the first of his two touchdown passes to end Frank Clarke. It was on a 19 yard pass play off a buck lateral.

Colorado was presented another opportunity early in the fourth when the Tigers again coughed up the ball, this time on their 36 yard line. Dowler pitched 13 yards to Clarke for the second Colorado score.

Place kick specialist Ellwin Indorf made good both Colorado conversions.

Twice rebuffed deep in Colorado territory, Missouri opened the scoring on a 53 yard drive in the first quarter with fullback Joe Wynn punching the last yard. Charlie Rash converted and the score stood 7-0 at the half.

The Tigers moved 62 yards in 19 plays for their second touchdown, Hank Kuhlmann hammering the last two yards, and Rash again converted to up Missouri's lead to 14-0.

Colorado, which only a week ago played mighty Oklahoma 19-27, got a scare in the closing minutes when Missouri threatened to tie the 10 yard line before stalling. A 52 yard run by Wynn on a screen pass provided the spark in that last threat.

Missouri outdistanced Colorado 250 to 106 yards rushing and 111 to 35 passing and limited fullback John Bayuk, the conference's leading rusher, to 26 yards on 10 carries.

The Tigers added to their woes on the last Colorado touchdown march when they drew a 15 yard penalty on a personal foul that put the ball on the Missouri 21 yard line. Missouri guard Paul Browning was ejected from the game for swinging on Bayuk.

Colorado was never able to punch the ball into Missouri territory against the fired up Tigers.

Colorado 0 7 7-14
Missouri 0 7 7-14

Colorado scoring—Touchdowns: Clarke 2 (19, pass from Dowler); 16, pass and run from Dowler; Conversions: Indorf 2.

Missouri scoring—Touchdowns: Wynn (1, rush); Kuhlmann (2, rush), Conversions: Rash 2.

Tennessee Raps Tech With First Season Loss 6-0

ATLANTA, Nov. 10.—(P)—Tailback Johnny Majors, operating behind a swift, savage line, hit end Buddy Cruze with two big passes today and Tennessee whipped Georgia Tech 6-0 in their football battle of the unbeaten.

Tennessee went into the game a touchdown underdog and ranked third nationally, one notch behind Tech. The victory made the Vols the top choice for a Cotton or Sugar Bowl bid and gave them a good chance of replacing Oklahoma as the nation's No. 1 football team.

Fullback Tommy Brownson actually got the Vols' score midway of the third period on a one yard plunge, but it was Majors' passes to Cruze—a 16-yarder to Tech's 46 and a 45-yarder to the one—that made it possible.

But line play by both teams really was the big show. It's been a long time since such fierce fore-and-aft play and thundering tackling has been seen on Grant Field and not since a scoreless tie against Florida in the rain in 1953 had a Tech team been held scoreless.

Every Swipe Counts
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (P)—L. P. Cobble, who bosses the custodial division of Texas A&M College here, has a well trained crew of eight supervisors and 160 employees.

He claims any one of them could finish a housewife's cleaning job in 30 minutes. It's not that they work at a superhuman speed, he says. It's just that the work is planned scientifically. "Every swipe counts," he says.

Kansas Tops Big Seven Cross-Country Runners

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 10.—(P)—Kansas won the Big Seven cross-country championship for the 8th consecutive year here today and Jerry McNeal of Kansas ran the 3-mile course in 15 minutes, 10 seconds to set a new meet record.

The old mark of 15:10.1 was set by Al Frame, also of Kansas, last year. Kansas scored 20 points—far ahead of second place Colorado's 38—to win the meet. Other places and points were Iowa State 33, 3rd; Missouri, 113, 4th; Oklahoma 121, 5th; Nebraska 126, 6th; Kansas 130, 7th.

Second in individual performance was Jan Howell of Kansas at 15 minutes, 13 seconds and Bernie Gay, Kansas, was third in 15:22. James Sanders of Missouri also was timed in 15:22 but he was a shade behind Gay and placed 4th. Robert Elwood, Nebraska, 15:24 was 5th.

Iowa Eyes Rose Bowl, Subdues Minnesota 7-0

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—(P)—Resurgent Iowa sent its Rose Bowl hopes soaring today with a 7-0 upset victory over Minnesota in a jungle-fight battle decided by Hawkeye alertness in the face of game-long Gopher fumbling.

The triumph left Iowa in position to march to Pasadena for the first time ever if it beats Ohio State Saturday. And even if it loses Iowa can still get the bowl bid should Minnesota or Michigan lose again.

Minnesota, previously unbeaten and ranked sixth in the nation, saw its own Rose Bowl ambitions virtually dissolved in a swarm of fumbles and intercepted passes.

One of the bobbles led directly to Iowa's touchdown. Two more stymied Minnesota drives that were headed goalward.

Iowa, all but counted out of the Rose Bowl sweeps after losing to Michigan last week, stormed 38 yards to a touchdown in the first quarter behind the line strikes of Don Dobrino and Bill Hoppel and the clutch passing of quarterback Kenny Posen. Fullback Fred Harris bucked over from the one on first down and Bob Prescott converted.

Texas Aggies Crush SMU 33-7 To Lead SW Loop

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—(P)—Texas A & M's scythe-like ground attack, featuring mighty John Crow and a defense that rattled Southern Methodist to its cleats, swept to a crushing 33-7 victory and first place in the Southwest Conference football race today.

The roughhouse Aggies rolled on undefeated toward their first conference championship in 15 years. Two games away sits the title they have wanted so long. The Aggies, however, must have a probation for alleged recruiting abuses lifted by the NCAA before they can play in the Cotton-Bowl—a hurdle that may prove tougher than all the Southwest Conference teams.

It was the worst defeat A & M had administered to the Methodists since 1944, when the Aggies won 39-6.

Sends Pitcher a Personal Letter— Ike Tells Newcombe of His Pulling for Hurler in Series

TOKYO, Nov. 10.—President Eisenhower told Dodge pitcher Don Newcombe that "I for one was pulling for you" in the World Series but "hard luck is something that no one in the world can explain."

In a personal letter to the big pitcher, who was pounded out of the box twice in the series with the New York Yankees, President Eisenhower said:

"Every athlete in every sport in the world knows that some days things just don't break right."

The President, in his letter delivered through the American Embassy in Tokyo, added:

"I think I know how much you wanted to win a World Series game; I for one was pulling for you."

"But I suggest when you think over this past season, you think of the 27 games you won that were so important in bringing Brooklyn into the World Series."

"Good luck in Japan."

Newcombe has had bad luck in Japan.

He was batted out of the box in his first appearance against a Japanese team, without getting a batter out.

He complained of a sore arm that prevented him from throwing 8-2.

Postmaster Gives Mailing Suggestions

In anticipation of the largest holiday mail volume in the history of the Post Office Department, the nation's chief "mailman," Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield outlined today ten basic pointers for users of the mails to follow in order to assure prompt and safe delivery of their Christmas cards and gifts.

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly or print plainly. Where applicable, use zone numbers on the address and return address. Avoid using abbreviations which might confuse mail handlers.

2. Be certain that a return address is printed on the upper left hand corner of both Christmas cards and parcels. This will prevent any undelivered mail ending up in a "dead letter" office.

3. Do not enclose coins or hard objects of any kind in letters, without marking the envelope for hand stamping. High speed cancelling machines cannot process such letters, often jam and damage letters.

4. Do not mail cash in any Christmas gift. For safety's sake, use postal money orders or checks.

5. Make sure parcels are well packed and securely wrapped in strong containers. Cushioning material, such as excelsior, shredded newspapers or tissue paper should be evenly and firmly placed on all sides of the Christmas gift. The carton should be wrapped in heavy paper and securely tied with strong twine.

6. Gifts of a delicate nature, such as glass, china, electrical appliances, radios and musical instruments, must be marked "Fragile" by the mailer. Food stuffs should be marked "Perishable" if subject to spoilage.

7. Insure parcels. Register letters of real value. Where only proof of delivery is required for letters of no intrinsic value use certified mail. Use combination mail where a letter or message—other than a gift tag—is to be enclosed inside a Christmas package.

8. Ask at any post office for the free pamphlet, "Post Office Department Publication No. 3" which contains rates of postage and limits of size and weight for domestic mail. Another free pamphlet at post offices entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing."

9. Mail Christmas cards and parcels early to avoid the last minute rush and waiting in line at the post office. The best times to avoid crowds at stamp windows in most post offices are before 10 a.m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

10. Every postal employee is happy to answer questions on postal rules and regulations. Anyone with problems about mailing his Christmas parcels should avail himself of the opportunity of discussing the problems with postal employees, and take advantage of their experience.

Summerfield further emphasized how important it is to start planning now to shop early and mail for Christmas.

Oregon State Edges Stanford, Nears Rose Bowl

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 10.—Oregon State beat Stanford's John Brodie at his own passing game today, edging the Indians 20-19 and virtually wrapping up its first Pacific Coast title and Rose Bowl bid since 1941.

The Beavers would probably meet Iowa, victor over Minnesota 7-0 today, in a rematch in the Pasadena bowl. Iowa beat Oregon State 14-13 in an early season game.

Trailing 19-14 midway in the fourth quarter today, Oregon State's fullback, Tom Berry, picked off one of Brodie's passes at the OSC 49. Six plays later, tailback Joe Francis passed 21 yards to end Frank Negri in the end zone for the winning score.

Stanford had led 19-7 going into the final period. Then the Beavers

State to Use Radar Control On Highways

"We are doing everything that we think is practical to stop the tragic deaths and injuries and to reduce the tremendous cost of traffic accidents caused by careless and imprudent driving on the streets and highways of Missouri."

These were the words of Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, when asked about the new radar equipped patrol car recently put into use by his department.

The colonel said that a new facet of enforcement for the Patrol began officially on Nov. 1, when a special radar equipped patrol car was put on the road with an officer in charge whose beat will be the entire state during a period of experimental use to determine the best methods for radar detection operation and until other units can be acquired.

This special equipment was placed in use primarily for checking over-the-road operation of buses and trucks that come under the authority of the Public Service Commission. The bus and truck law provides a 50 mile an hour speed limit on these vehicles. The increasing number of complaints concerning excessive speed of these commercial vehicles has prompted the use of radar to aid in the apprehension and conviction of violators.

Waggoner said that besides use in detecting violations by commercial vehicles the unit may well be used to detect speeds which are not consistent with the laws requiring careful and prudent operation of a motor vehicle at all times.

Anticipating cries of "speed trap", Colonel Waggoner explained that the use of radar to detect violations cannot be considered an entrapment because there is no

Kansas State Slaps Marquette In 41-14 Runaway

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 10.—Kansas State, which is having its troubles in the Big Seven football conference, walloped player-poor Marquette, 41-14, today with almost effortless ease.

A slim crowd of only 10,300 chilled fans watched a systematic Wildcat air and ground game mow down Marquette to break a three-game losing streak.

Marquette, mired in the worst season of its 54-year football history, now has dropped eight in a row and nine straight over a two-year span.

Gene Keady, who made the switch from quarterback to halfback without missing a step, and end Don Zadnik each scored two touchdowns in the Wildcats' rout.

Quarterback Dick Corbin, a stylish southpaw, passed for two scores and plunged for a third. Second string back Ben Grosse completed the Wildcats' hectic scoring pace by racing six yards for a TD late in the final quarter.

Secret Service Men Say $25,000 in Bills Are All Counterfeit

WEATHERFORD, Tex., (AP)—Secret Service men said today that the $25,000 in $100 bills found near here are definitely counterfeit and they are the same kind of bogus currency found in a crashed plane near Corpus Christi in August.

Agent Forrest Sorrels of the Dallas office of the Treasury Department's Secret Service said the money found by Oscar Womack on his dairy farm near here yesterday afternoon was similar to the nine $100 bills found on the body of a victim in the plane crash.

The agents said they had been looking for more counterfeit bills similar to those found on the body of Robert Keller Jr., 31, Fort Worth attorney and business promoter killed in the plane crash.

The announcement by secret service agent Leo J. Williams that the $25,000 worth of bills were counterfeit quickly dampened Womack's exuberance over his discovery.

Juvenile Genius

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP)—Ten-year-old Philip Kochman has solved the vexing problem of holding a hand-operated egg beater firm by inventing a suction cup which may be attached to the base of the whipper. He has placed it in the hands of a distributing agency.

Another of the sixth grade grammar school boy's inventions is a household utility tool which serves as a spoon, a pickle fork and a lifter of milk bottle tops.

During 1942 and 1943 Count Fleet won three races at Pimlico by a combined total of 43 lengths.

Ed Sutton of Cullowhee, N.C., averaged 7.6 yards per carry during North Carolina's first three football games this fall.

Hope Rises for Sight Of Boy Badly Mauled By Dog on Thursday

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10 (AP)—Hope rose today for the sight of 6½-year-old Dennis Snow, severely mauled by a Boxer dog Thursday while playing near his home in Kansas City's Eastwood Hills section.

The attending physician said Dennis could see out of his injured right eye today although objects were blurred. But the boy's cuts are scratches are healing and the and scratches are healing and the doctor said he thinks the sight in the eye can be saved.

Dennis' father, Ross Snow, and the owner of the dog, Mrs. C. W. Kirkham, conferred with Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Jim Gillham at Independence today but no decision was reached concerning the dog's fate.

Mrs. Kirkham said she is putting the dog in the care of a veterinarian for two weeks to determine whether it is suffering from rabies. After that will come a decision on disposition of the dog. It was agreed, however, that whatever the decision it must be approved by Snow.

Mike Peppe has coached Ohio State University's swimmers since 1930.

Mrs. C. W. Carter reported she and Mrs. H. C. Sammons had taken chrysanthemums to the library.

Mrs. B. Y. Edelen presented the program, "Beauty For Birds." She stated our song birds were a most valuable asset. Nature, she said, maintains its own balance unless disturbed. Every time a new home is built or a lot cleared we disturb that balance and must provide for our feathered friends. Songbirds, like all wild life, must have four basic elements to live, cover, food, water and housing. It is possible to provide some of each on our city lots. Each need was discussed as to the kind, height and location. Provide a year around supply of each is the best way to attract birds and any bird lover will feel amply repaid for his effort.

In exhibits Mrs. H. C. Sammons was first on arrangement and Mrs. W. E. Dobel, first in chrysanthemums.

Club No. 4, met with Mrs. Eda Tomlin with Mrs. Fred Milburn as assisting hostess. A dessert course was served to 20 members and two guests, Mrs. Roy Kirchofer of Sedalia and Mrs. Lingle of Windsor.

Finds No Sign Of Russian Plane Shift

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon, alert to the recent shifting of Soviet forces behind the Iron Curtain, so far has discovered no sign of any movement of the Reds' long-range air force into position where it could attack North America.

Such an ominous move would foreshadow general nuclear war. And in these trigger-days, the United States is being ultra-cautious about making any shifts of its own Strategic Air Command units that might be misunderstood by the Kremlin.

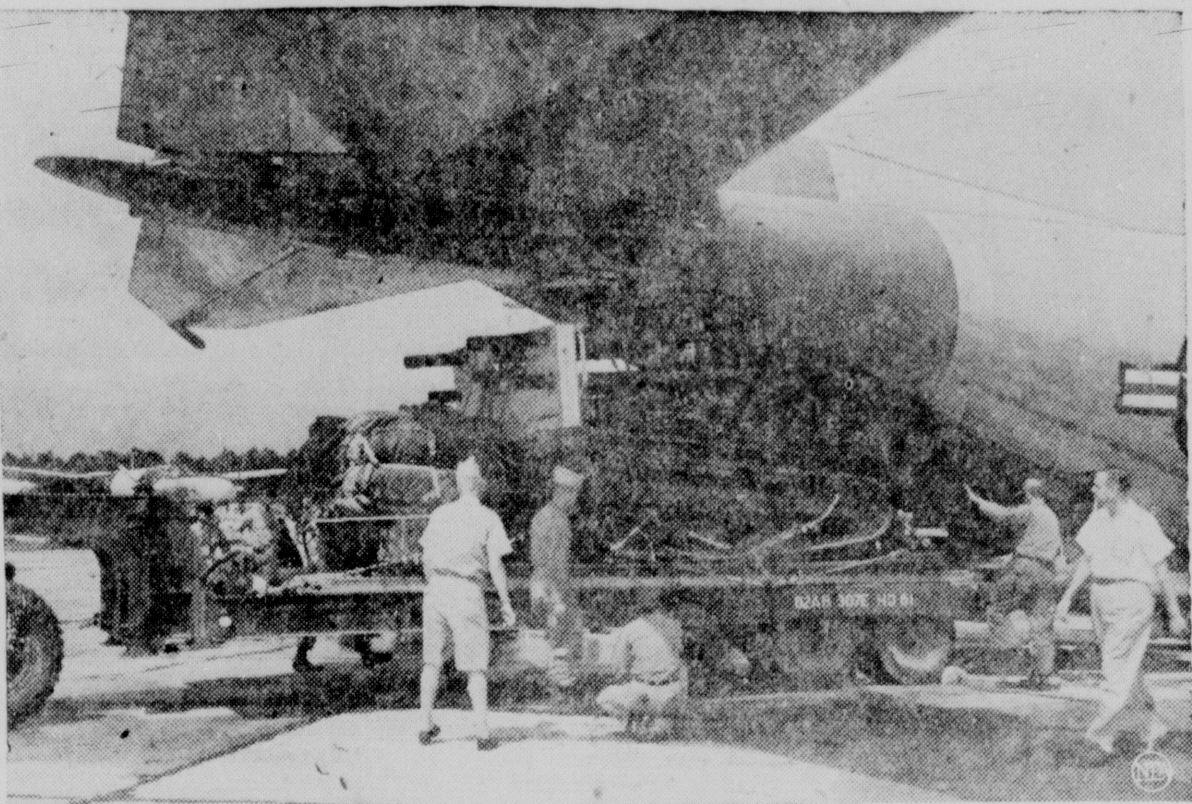

In discussing the Russian long-range force, which now consists of medium and heavy bombers by the hundreds, one informed Pentagon officer said today that "so far as we know they are not poised."

He hastened to add that the United States didn't know a Japanese carrier force was en route in 1941 until bombs hit Pearl Harbor. But he made it plain that the devices of intelligence now are somewhat more reliable.

The Russian leaders, of course, might try to invade Western Europe—if they were so inclined—without using atomic weapons, thus inducing the Western powers to abstain also from nuclear explosives.

If American strategy makers could learn the real reason for the Russian troop movements, their own planning would be easier. They are giving full attention to the possibility that Russian concern about new uprisings among the satellites, not any thought of war against the west, is back of the shifting of powerful army forces.

One Pentagon officer, talking about the prospect of outbreaks in Communist-controlled East Germany, Poland or Czechoslovakia, commented that the Russians have reason to know better than anyone else the fighting capabilities of those people.

NOW—JET TRANSPORTS—Uncle Sam has a huge new combat transport—and it's jet-propelled, first of its kind for the Air Force. It goes into regular service in December. It's the C-130 Hercules, pictured during tests at Pope Air Force Base, N.C., taking on a Marine anti-tank weapon weighing 22,235 pounds. The vehicle was successfully dropped by parachute. The C-130 can carry 20 tons of equipment or 92 fully combat-equipped troops. As a hospital ship, it can handle 70 litter patients.

This, then, could be the chief reason for Soviet deployment of up to 10 divisions in the area of the Polish border and a score or more divisions in East Germany, he reasoned.

A Joint Chiefs of Staff spokesman disclosed on Wednesday that because of uncertainty about the basis for Soviet troop movements, the Russian talk about intervention in the Middle East fighting and other manifestations of tension, U.S. commanders have been instructed to take certain precautionary steps.

One of them was to call off a routine training maneuver by naval forces and instead assemble the big carriers, cruisers, destroyers

Big Business In Tax-Free Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A new flood of local and state debt issues will be heading for the tax-exempt bond market as a result of this week's election. They will find investors expecting high yields.

The voters notably reversed their stand of a year ago when they took a firm grip on their pocketbooks and defeated two-thirds of such proposals at the polls. But that didn't keep a near record amount of tax-exempts from hitting the market in recent months.

Along with tight money in all phases of business, the new issues helped push the yields from such bonds to the highest point since 1939.

Increasing debt is but one sign of increasing prosperity and improving living standards. In many cases the new bond issues are the result of the great growth in population in general and of certain areas in particular that has marked the era of good times and industrial expansion.

Local governments are now striving mightily to catch up with the pressing demand in their communities for schools, sewers, water works, hospitals, street improvements or intercity highways.

This time the voter approved all but about $4 out of each $100 asked. They brought the total of issues approved in this election to nearly 2½ billion dollars.

As just one example of the change in mood, voters in New York state in 1955 refused to approve 100 million dollars in state that found the voters more receptive this year, in one or more communities, include bond issues to provide funds for:

Hospitals, street lighting and other civic improvements, highways, hospitals, water works, sewer facilities, memorial auditoriums and in at least one instance, a new library.

Six states voted aid in one form or another for veterans, including in some cases bonuses for Korean War veterans.

Miss Delta Mae Blaue Exchanges Vows With Mr. Richard C. Emery

Miss Delta Mae Blaue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Blaue, 1434 South Sneed, and Richard C. Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Emery, 714 Wilkerson, were united in marriage at seven o'clock the evening of October 26 in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. A. F. Klemme at the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church. A background was formed by a bridal arch entwined with greenery, large urns of yellow chrysanthemums, white gladioli and pom-poms, and 14 white tapers, which were entwined with huckleberry and tied with white satin.

Mrs. Clyde Williams, organist, played a medley of appropriate music and also played the traditional wedding marches. She accompanied James Dittmer who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Bobby Nagel, the church acolyte lighted the tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice over white satin, complimented by a Queen Ann collar and long, fitted sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was of tiered nylon net and Chantilly lace over bridal satin. She wore a double veil of nylon tulle bordered with lace and attached to a seed pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid with yellow throat, enhanced with net, stephanotis and long white streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Eleanor Hillman, maid of honor, wore a street length dress of pale green crystallette styled with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a pale yellow net and satin headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations tied with net and yellow satin.

Your Wardrobe

by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

Your underpinnings are just as important in your wardrobe as your suits and dresses and you should use as much care and attention in selecting them. There are so many new types of bras on the market, there is no reason for not having the proper ones for your particular needs. Girdles, too, are a must for any well groomed woman, regardless of how small she may be. Petticoats are very important and are excellent to wear under your suit skirts and heavier dresses. However, you must be careful in the selection of sheer or clinging blouses if you prefer to wear petticoats. There is a gala array of colors in slips and petticoats now it is great fun to have them go with the rest of your outfits. It is very important that you have your suits and dresses fitted over the girdle and bra you intend wearing. Keep your lingerie meticulously clean and tuck some of your best satchet in your lingerie chest.

Roy Andersons Observe 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson celebrated their 40th, wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 4, at their farm home east of Hughesville.

Roy Anderson and Beatrice Wainscott were married at the parsonage of the East Sedalia Baptist Church on Saturday, Nov. 4, 1916. The Andersons remember it as a beautiful sunny day and very warm. They also recall it was a warm winter and a heavy coat wasn't needed that year until after January 1.

Those present at the anniversary observance were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson and daughter, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Anderson and children, Carl, Warren and Agnes, all of Smithton, Edgar Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, all of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. I. G.

Anderson of Independence, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeHaven, Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and two of their three children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, Buddy and Mary Louise, Hughesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley, Mike and Carter, Sedalia.

Another daughter, Ruth, who is Mrs. Edward D. Hill, Sacramento, Calif., was unable to be with them but called by telephone to talk to them.

The celebration was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson who knew their children would be there but not the others. The dinner, which was contributed, had as the featured dish wild goose.

You can usually test whether a soufflé is baked enough by inserting a silver knife halfway between the center and the outer edge of the dish; the knife should come out clean. This applies to soufflés baked at a constant slow temperature.

Mrs. Louis Rodriguez

Mary Edna Bopp, Louis Rodriguez Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Mary Edna Bopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Bopp, 210 West 11th, and Louis Rodriguez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisco Rodriguez, West Islip, New York, pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at ten o'clock the morning of November 3 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with Rev. A. J. Brunswick officiating at Nuptial Mass. White gladioli and white chrysanthemums with palms decorated the altar.

The Sacred Heart High School Choir sang during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Rose Pointe lace over bridal satin, fashioned with fitted bodice which featured long tapering sleeves and a low V neckline, inlaid with tiny rows of pleated tulle. The very bouffant skirt of lace was lifted across the center front to reveal a flounce of pleated tulle ruffles. Scalloped panels of lace gathered at the waist over skirts of tulle and satin, lengthened in back to form a chapel train. A shaped plateau of matching lace edged with fluted tulle and outlined with rows of pearls held a fingertip illusion of imported tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with silver metallic leaves.

Mrs. Dave Johnson, Sedalia, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink tulle over white tulle and gossamer tulle over white tulle. The bridesmaids, Miss Sue Tucker, Warrensburg, and Miss Dorothy Kennedy, Kansas City, Kan., wore identical gowns of light blue. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations while the bridesmaids carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

James Corss of Cleveland, Ohio, served as best man. Conrad Time of Iowa and John Bopp of Sedalia were groomsmen. Ushers were Gerald Defoe of Sedalia and Gene Pankiewicz, Buffalo, New York.

Lausche Has Independent Reputation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Big, 60-year-old Sen. - elect Frank J. Lausche will carry with him to Washington next January a solid reputation for independence.

Capitol Hill also will find he is adroit.

Is Lausche, the only five-term governor in Ohio history, a nominal Democrat but a Republican at heart?

Lausche says, "I am an American first and a Democrat second."

What will that statement mean in political performance? No prudent person would even hazard a guess.

Consider the prime question which plagued Ohio's practical politicians during the campaign which resulted in a Lausche victory over Republican Sen. George H. Bender:

"Will Lausche actually vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate?"

As early as last June, Lausche let it be known he might consider just such a move (1) if he were elected to the Senate, (2) if President Eisenhower were re-elected, and (3) "on the balance of strength in the Senate."

Many Republicans voted for Lausche Tuesday. Eisenhower carried Ohio by a record 827,000, but Lausche came out on top by 200,000.

Now he holds the balance-of-power vote in the Senate, made up of 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans — and Lausche. Should the Ohioan with the unruly shock of iron-gray curly hair throw Senate organization into a 48-48 tie, Republican Vice President Nixon would be the tie-breaker.

Lausche, however, has been "on the hook" before. Political friends and foes agree he is an expert at getting off.

Only 24 hours after his election, he told newsmen:

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio. If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote, taking into consideration the composition of the Senate the fact that Eisenhower is president and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

That statement told the other 48 Democrats in the Senate: You will have 11 days — from the Jan. 3 opening of the Senate session until Lausche steps out of the Ohio governor's office on Jan. 14 — to organize the Senate.

Lausche, of course, would be right back on the hook if the Democrats have not succeeded in organizing the Senate before his arrival in Washington.

GOP Attorney Won't File Suits on Taxes

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Republican John J. Hoban, upset winner in the race for St. Clair County state's attorney, says he won't file suits to collect personal property taxes when he takes office Dec. 3.

Democrat incumbent Richard T. Carter, who had filed such suits by the hundreds, lost by 2,345 votes Tuesday, the only Democrat to lose in the county. He had served two terms.

Hoban said that he would soon meet with assessment officials to work toward a fair assessment plan. He was the first GOP candidate to win a court house office since 1950 and first to win in a presidential year since 1928.

Carter contended the filing of the suits was ordered by the board of supervisors and he was "only doing my duty."

Associate MU Dean Denies Over-Emphasis On Science Enrollment

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dr. Edward Palmquist, associate dean at the University of Missouri, said that the charges by some educators that too great an effort is being made to lure the best students into the study of science were unfounded.

Dr. Palmquist, former director of the National Science Foundation's Program for education in science, spoke at the 63rd annual meeting of the Missouri College Union.

"The foundation won't buy people into science," he said.

Assistance from the government sponsored foundation in the form of fellowships goes only to graduate students, already planning a career in science, he said.

The Rev. Paul C. Reinert, president of St. Louis University, was elected president of the union. L. G. Abernathy, emeritus professor of physics at Central College, Fayette, was elected secretary-treasurer.

WHO'S THAT FUNNY MAN? What a clown he is! Making such silly faces ... silly noises, too. Thinks he's talking my language. But I kind of like him because ... I guess he belongs to me. If only he could understand me ... you know what I'd tell him? I like it here!

Behind the assurance so many American children feel—from their earliest days—lies a sense of security that comes from their parents. And over 16 million Americans—parents and others, too—enjoy that sense of security because of savings ... entrusted to their local Insured Savings and Loan Association. This trust is inspired by sound local management, excellent returns and insured safety. Savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government. Insured Savings and Loan Associations are a major and steadily growing factor in the Nation's economy. For millions they encourage thrift, promote home ownership and create paying jobs. With over $37 billion of assets these insured associations help keep the Nation's prosperity vigorous and genuinely sound.

Official Says Military Cost Will Go Up

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Industry leaders have been advised to expect rising military budgets and no substantial cut in U.S. military forces until 1960 or longer.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess presented this outlook to the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council meeting here with government officials.

Burgess appealed to the council, whose 155 members include the heads of many of the country's greatest corporations, for support in the Pentagon's effort to obtain and hold the hard core of technician-soldiers needed in modern warfare.

Burgess warned that defense costs probably will continue to mount for some time. The Defense Department assumes, he said, that the country's total production "will continue to grow, and defense will remain about 10 percent of the total." National production now is estimated at an annual rate of 414 billion dollars a year, and is rising.

He brushed aside reports that Washington's "new new look" at the defense program might result in a sizable cut in the number of men in uniform.

The "military force strength may be subject to a very limited downward adjustment by the end of 1958," accompanied by a modest buildup of the armed forces, he said.

But the current review of the military establishment, in connection with preparation of the fiscal 1958 budget to be sent to Congress by President Eisenhower in January, will result in "no cut in the combat forces that I know of," Burgess added.

He indicated the Pentagon will not be interested in proposals for ending the draft — as proposed for study by defeated Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson — until an alternative idea is presented for meeting military manpower needs.

One of the basic assumptions "which underly future manpower directions until 1960 and beyond," Burgess said, is that selective service and the draft will remain essential national insurance policy."

Approximately $45 million dollars have been spent in restoring Williamsburg, Va., to its days of the American Revolution.

In 1929 Lt. (later Gen.) James H. Doolittle made the first all-blind flight at Mitchell Field, Long Island.

Other new officers are: Joyce Breshears, vice-president; Sandy See, secretary-treasurer; Marcia Laird, song leader; Bubby See, recreation leader, and Joe White, reporter.

Dog May Be Losing Place In American Home to Cat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is man's best friend, the dog, losing out to the cat in America?

Since this is National Cat Week, it is as good a time as any to explore the question of whether Tabby is taking over from Rover in the American home.

Although a pet census would probably show the United States still has millions more dogs than cats, there are other signs tending to show that the long heyday of the dog is headed for twilight.

He may still have the farm vote, but he is losing out in the cities, where he has become a casualty of a civilization which fits the cat very well but in which he is as out of place as a frog in a boudoir.

Landlords, wives, and television are three factors that combine to throw a deepening shadow over the future of the dog.

Many landlords in Manhattan will allow their tenants to have children, cats, parakeets—or even a boa constrictor if you smuggle it in after dark—but they draw the line at dogs.

This is the rule where I live, a vast apartment project housing more than 2,000 families. When I asked why cats were permitted but dogs were verboten, I was told:

"Look, if 1,000 families here had children and 500 had cats, you wouldn't hardly notice the cats, because they stay in the house. But if the other 500 families had dogs, you know what we'd have? Lawsuits!"

"You couldn't mix cats, dogs and kids in a place like this without getting chaos."

The growth of the equal rights movement has been ever harder on dogs than it has been on humans. As wives have assumed a greater authority in the home, they have tended to give Rover the heave-ho and replace him with a kitty.

They argue that Rover is too noisy and boisterous, that he may be a good watchdog but a good electric burglar alarm can be fed more cheaply, and that a cat makes a nicer house pet because she is gentle and soft-footed.

As one lady cat lover explained it:

"A dog is a born peasant. A cat is a born aristocrat. The peasant has many fine outdoor virtues, but indoors one prefers the company of the aristocrat."

At first glance it might be thought television was a benefactor of the dog since it has made millionaires of Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin, whereas no cat has been hep enough to earn any real scratch from video.

The real effect of video, however, has been to rob Rover of one of his last roles in home life.

Many city husbands, burdened with talkative wives, used to like to have a dog because the fact it needed an evening walk gave them the change to get out of the house and clear their ears.

Today a husband can drown out his hausfrau's oratory by merely dialing his TV louder. He no longer has to go for a walk, so the dog is no longer an absolute necessity. If his wife says she prefers a cat, it's okay with him. Anything to keep peace in the home.

She can have a pet porpoise, if she'll just keep it out of the bathroom while he's shaving.

Yep, the cat, that tur-bearing goldigger, that stalking sneer, that strolling insolence on plush, is crowding out old honest, loyal, loving Rover, who has walked side by side down the ages with man, serving him often better than man has served himself.

I'm no cat hater, and there may be cats that would leap into a raging river and help pull me out. There also may be cats that would dash into a burning building to help guide me down the stairs.

All I say is that so far I've never met a cat I'd trust with a match—or turn my back on in a canoe.

Japan Tops in Suicides

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has more suicides per capita than any other nation. The welfare ministry reported 22,138 in 1955—24.8 per 100,000 population. This was a 1.4 per cent rise over 1954, when Japan also was the world leader, followed by Denmark, Austria, West Germany and Switzerland. The majority of Japan's suicides were committed by persons under 30 and over 60.

Held High Government Post— Missouri Was Last Outpost For This Famed American

By The State Historical Society
Of Missouri

Counties, towns, rivers, and roads have been named in his honor; markers commemorate him; he is included in the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University; seven stanzas devoted to him by Lord Byron in the poem, Don Juan, brought him world fame. Do you know his name?

1. How did he become interested in the West?

A. While with Brodbeck's army in 1755, he met a hunter whose tales of Kentucky fired his imagination. Four years before, he had emigrated with his parents from Berks County, Pennsylvania, where he was born in 1734, to a settlement along the Yadkin river in North Carolina. In 1756 he married Rebecca Bryan, a neighbor's daughter, and settled on a farm. He later spent 2½ years exploring in the Kentucky wilderness. In 1775, as agent of the Transylvania Company, he led a band of settlers through the Cumberland Gap and began the building of Boonesborough.

He Needed More "Elbow Room"

2. What did he do in Kentucky?

A. Hunting, Indian fighting, and surveying were his chief occupations. When Kentucky was organized as a county, he represented the region for two terms in the Virginia legislature and held various ranks in the militia. He surveyed and claimed vast Kentucky lands, but trusting that no one would question his claims, he neglected to register them properly, and eventually lost all of his holdings and fell in debt. In 1789 he moved to Point Pleasant in what is now West Virginia, where he kept a tavern and store and represented the region in the legislature.

3. Why did he come to Missouri?

Soviet Officers Keep Command Positions With Poland's Army

BERLIN (AP)—A "number" of Russian officers will retain command positions with Poland's army the Communist East German news agency ADN reported today.

ADN's Warsaw dispatch quoted an announcement by Zolnierz Wolnosci, official organ of the Polish Defense Ministry as saying:

"A number of Soviet commanders will remain at their posts because at the present moment all branches of the Polish army do not have enough highly qualified experts and troop leaders."

"We want this help," the paper added, "because they are our closest friends."

Although there was some truth in his statement that Kentucky was too crowded and he needed more "elbow room," glowing accounts from his sons who had settled in Spanish-governed Missouri and the promise of land concessions from Lieutenant-governor Trudeau also prompted him to come to Missouri in 1799. In 1800 he was granted 850 acres of land in the Femme Osage district in what is now St. Charles County. His title was declared void in 1809, but was restored by Congress in 1814 for his leadership in western settlement.

4. What did he do during his later years in Missouri?

A. Appointed syndic, or local judge, of the district in 1804, he held court under the "Judgment Tree" with such fairness that it met the approval of all. Still lithe and active, he ranged through Missouri with his trap and rifle. When nearly eighty, he returned to Kentucky to pay his debts. Reputedly only fifty cents was left with the world, and returned exultant to Missouri. He died at the home of his son, Nathan, in St. Charles County, in 1820, and was buried beside his wife near the site of Marthasville in Warren County. History records that their remains were removed to Frankfort, Ky., in 1845, where a monument was erected to them in 1880.

5. How has Missouri honored his memory?

A. A Missouri county and town are named for him, and a granite boulder marks his grave site. Many markers commemorating him are located along the Boon's Lick road which extended from St. Charles to Central Missouri. Both region and road derived their names from the lick where his sons boiled salt in the present Howard County.

6. What was his name?
A. Daniel Boone.

McGuire Sisters Give Report of $40,000 Theft from Apartment

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the singing McGuire sisters have reported their Manhattan apartment was looted of $40,000 in valuables—including furs, jewelry, clothing, a TV set and refrigerator.

The thieves even took rugs and drapes worth $1,250 and $1,000 worth of silverware, police were told by Dorothy and Phyllis McGuire. The third sister, Chris, is married and lives elsewhere.

The burglary took place Wednesday night while the sisters were warbling on the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

Skis In The Sky

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major aircraft company is equipping its giant patrol bombers for duty in the Antarctic with the largest skis ever ordered for a jet-powered aircraft. Measuring 5 feet wide and 16 feet long and made of composite aluminum alloy and steel, the skis will be attached to the two-wheel main landing gear. Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., says a smaller ski will be mounted on the plane's nose landing gear. And to play it safe, provisions are being made for the wheels to remain stationary while the skis can move up or down—thereby permitting landings on either skis or wheels.

Western Europe Curtails Use Of Oil Supply

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe kept a wary watch on its oil stocks today in preparation for possible sharp cuts in Middle East supplies if the Suez Canal stays blocked to world shipping.

Britain, France and Denmark announced measures to curtail private motoring and told industry to reduce consumption of diesel and fuel oil.

But other European nations said they had enough oil in store to get by for the next month or two without economy drives.

Some oil experts predicted Europe will have to start leaving heavily on reserves next week while awaiting the reopening of the canal and the arrival of tankers making the long and more costly voyage round the Cape of

Good Hope from the Middle East
